

Mrs Bethan Harper

My name is Mrs Bethan Harper and I teach clarinet, saxophone, flute, piano and music curriculum for Edsential.

I studied clarinet at the Royal Northern College of music, where I gained my BMus(hons) degree, Licentiate of The Royal Schools of Music and PGCE specialising in instrumental teaching.

Since graduating, I have performed with numerous orchestras and chamber ensembles across the Northwest of England and North Wales. I have also given solo recitals at various venues and have won awards at The National Eisteddfod of Wales.

There are several reasons why I love being a musician. Whether it's performing or teaching, the work is always extremely rewarding and I believe it's such a privilege to be able to share your passion with others.

It's very difficult to choose just one favourite musical experience. From performing in orchestral concerts at venues such as the Bridgewater Hall in Manchester and Symphony Hall in Birmingham, to giving a solo recital on live television, to spending the day recording at Future Yard with the wonderful Edsential Leaps and Bounds team- it's all been amazing!

When I'm not performing or teaching, I enjoy running and baking, but I suppose I'm lucky enough to be able to say that music is my main hobby as well as my career!
