

Ms C. Miclaus

Singing has always been an important part of my life. Having studied in a Music School since childhood, that passion stayed with me, and although I have studied other fields, such as Nursing, English Language & Journalism, as well as Management, in 2014 I finished my Conservatoire of Music studies, where I specialised in Bel Canto.

I am using my unique blend of studies to create a trust based, nurturing environment, where my students will flourish and discover their potential in singing.

Guiding their journeys from the beginning, to the point where their vocal abilities are secure, and what's more, their Graded Exams also reflect their achievements, is a very fulfilling process that I truly enjoy!
